Calls for Papers

On 16 October 2017 abstracts (250 words maximum) are due for the Seventh Graduate Student Conference at the UCLA Cotsen Institute of Archaeology entitled Looking Beyond Borders: Interaction and Exchange in Archaeology, to be held on 2-3 February 2018. Proposals are welcomed that explore issues of interaction and exchange on all scales, from agency-driven studies of connectivity and interfacing between individuals, to analyses of society-wide perspectives on conflict, contact, and colonialism. Abstracts should describe the proposed topic of discussion and its relationship to interaction and/or exchange, and may be sent to ArchaeoGradConference.ucla@gmail.com. Areas of potential discussion include:

- How do different social classes, family groups, or individuals within a household engage with one another?
- In what ways do trade, foodways, or politics influence contact and exchange between groups?
- What connections do we see between seemingly divided cultural forces, such as the mundane and divine?
- How does the interaction between humans and objects define social practice?
- What can we learn from ancient conflicts, cultural hybridity, and imperialism?
- How do boundaries and conceptions of boundaries affect interactions between people(s) and their environments?
